Duration is a measure of the sensitivity of the price (the value of principal) of a fixed-income investment to a change in interest rates. Duration follows the concept that interest rates and bond prices move in opposite directions. Rising interest rates mean falling bond prices, while declining interest rates mean rising bond prices. Duration is expressed as a number of years and estimates the effect that a 100 basis point (1%) change in interest rates will have on the price of a bond.)

Investing involves risk including loss of principal. Investing in international markets carries risks such as currency fluctuation, regulatory risks, economic and political instability. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Bonds and bond funds are subject to interest rate risks and will decline in value as interest rates rise. Investing in securities that are not investment grade offers a higher yield but also carries a greater degree of risk of default or downgrade and are more volatile than investment grade securities, due to the speculative nature of their investments.

Diversification does not protect against market loss. Risks associated with bank loans include (i) prepayment risk which could cause the Fund to reinvest prepayment proceeds in lower-yielding investments; (ii) credit risk; and (iii) price volatility due to such factors as interest rate sensitivity and liquidity.

The Fund invests in life policies for which there is currently no established secondary market and are not considered liquid investments. If the Fund must sell a life policy to meet redemptions or other cash needs, the Fund may be forced to sell at a loss. The longer the insured lives, the lower the Fund's rate of return on the life policy. The underwriter's estimate of the insured's life expectancy may be incorrect. An insurance company may be unable or refuse to pay benefits on a life policy.

If the Fund is unable to make premium payments on a life policy, the policy will lapse and the Fund will lose its ownership interest in the policy. There may be a mismatch of cash flows related to the Fund's investment in life policies. There is currently no established secondary market for life policies, and are not considered liquid investments. If the Fund must sell a life policy to meet redemptions or other cash needs, the Fund may be forced to sell at a loss. The longer the insured lives, the lower the Fund's rate of return on the life policy. The underwriter's estimate of the insured's life expectancy may be incorrect. An insurance company may be unable or refuse to pay benefits on a life policy.
